KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Karen Walsh, President, Board of Regents, Universities of Wisconsin

Karen Walsh is director of the BerbeeWalsh Foundation, a family foundation dedicated to human and animal health and welfare. Since 2006, the foundation has awarded more than $8 million in grants in the State of Wisconsin, including a gift to the University of Wisconsin Hospitals and Clinics that created the BerbeeWalsh Department of Emergency Medicine. She was a newscaster and reporter for news outlets including Wisconsin Public Radio prior to serving for 23 years in a variety of public information and communications positions at UW-Madison. She retired in 2005 as the assistant dean for external relations in the College of Engineering, directing alumni and donor communications, news media relations, and industry communications. She also directed the college's undergraduate invention and prototyping competitions, the Schoofs Prize for Creativity and Tong Prototype Prize. Her honors include publications awards with the National Association of Government Communicators, the university's Bollinger Academic Staff Achievement Award, and Philanthropist of the Year from the Dane County Humane Society.

A native of Columbus, Walsh holds bachelor's and master's degrees in journalism from UW-Madison. She serves on several non-profit boards, including the Board of Visitors at the UW-Madison School of Veterinary Medicine, the Madison Cat Project, and the Access Community Health Centers Community Partners Board. She is also a past president of the Madison Opera Board of Trustees.

STUDENT SPEAKERS

The following students have been chosen to represent their respective colleges at today's ceremony. These remarkable individuals, all graduating seniors, radiate a profound sense of Falcon pride, deeply rooted in their connection to the UWRF community and their transformative experiences at the university.

Kenneth Udoibok

Kenneth Udoibok seeks to further his skills as a school counselor at UW-River Falls, an effort fueled by his desire to assist school students as much as he can.

Udoibok received his undergraduate degree in counseling at St. John's University in Collegeville, Minn. During his time there, in addition to his studies, Udoibok played on the football team and competed in track and field. He grew up in St. Paul, Minn., and attended Cretin-Derham Hall High School. He currently works in the Counseling Department at Cretin-Derham Hall, where he also is the assistant strength coach in the school weight room.

He has an affinity for sneakers and has a passion for hand customizing them. Udoibok enjoys a wide variety of activities, from playing drums at his church, to working as a barber in his spare time, to fishing. No matter what he's doing, he remains committed to serving his students.

Michelle Stangler

Growing up on her family's small dairy farm in southeast Wisconsin, Michelle Stangler developed an interest in connecting storytelling and agriculture. After enrolling at UW-River Falls, she joined the on-campus radio station WRFW. She subsequently created her own radio show which has developed into the Positivity in Ag podcast.

Throughout her college career, Stangler became involved in as many activities as she could and at times invented her own opportunities. She co-founded the Agricultural and Natural Resources Communications Club; was part of numerous organizations, such as Collegiate Farm Bureau and Dairy Club, and most recently placed first among UWRF students in the WiSys Big Idea Tournament, advancing to the state level of that competition.

Stangler also has interned with more than 10 organizations, studied abroad, and created her own business. She is an advocate for both young people and the agricultural community. After graduating with degrees in agricultural marketing communications and journalism, Stangler, from Watertown, looks forward to helping tell the stories of people involved in agriculture as a journalist and communicator.

Jessalyn Marshall

From working to attract students to UW-River Falls to mentoring them once they arrived, Jessalyn Marshall has been an involved advocate for her peers during her time at the university.

Marshall, from Glenwood, Minn., will graduate with degrees in communication studies and marketing communications. She has served in the university's Admissions Office as an admissions and orientation intern and as an orientation leader. Marshall has served in other student leadership roles as a student ambassador and a Chancellor's Student Ambassador.

She has taken on other leadership positions that include serving as both president and vice president of the university's Residence Hall Association. In addition, Marshall has served as student senator on the Student Government Association and is a member and scholar of Student Support Services. An honors student, she also has been involved in and supported the Student Success Center and at Freddy's Pantry food shelf.

CHANCELLOR'S AWARD

Although the university had long recognized academic achievement through the granting of awards, scholarships, and honors, non-academic accomplishments had not received similar recognition. It was for this reason that, in 1977, the chancellor and the Student Affairs staff began considering a way of honoring students who had made significant non-academic contributions to the university.

It was recommended that a Chancellor's Award, in the form of a medallion, be established. It is cast in antique bronze, two inches in diameter, and suspended from a red ribbon. The medallion is a smaller replica of the chancellor's medallion, a symbol of office worn on ceremonial occasions. It depicts the university's official seal. A certificate of recognition from the chancellor accompanies the award.

It was determined that the award would recognize service to the university; be granted primarily to upperclass students, although exceptions could be made; would not be based chiefly on scholastic achievement; and could be granted at any appropriate period, but would ordinarily be awarded at the all-campus awards reception.

Names in bold in the program designate Chancellor's Award recipients.
